

Company Fact Sheet

With the fastest API management platform and the world's most adopted API gateway, Kong helps businesses grow faster, scale reliably, and build more securely.

Customers demand extraordinary digital experiences. But the explosion of APIs and services that power these interactions creates challenges for businesses around complexity, scale, compliance, and security.

Kong is the cloud native API platform that lets businesses take control of the connections at the core of modern applications. Built on battle-tested open source technology and enhanced with enterprise-grade features and support, Kong ensures services are connected reliably, securely, and efficiently at scale across on-prem, multi-cloud, and hybrid cloud environments. With Kong, companies can trust APIs and services are secure with automated security, governance, and compliance.

Kong has been recognized as a Leader in the Gartner® Magic Quadrant™ for Full Lifecycle API Management and positioned furthest to the right for completeness of vision for three years in a row.
